

EXCELLENCE in HEALTH CARE

Bill Collier of Atlanta

SMALL TOWN, BIG CARE

Bill Collier of Atlanta began his career with Pinova in early 2010 as a consultant, and was promoted in early 2011 to Chief Financial Officer of Pinova Holdings, Inc. Reluctant to uproot his family from their Atlanta home, he rents an apartment locally, but travels back and forth, and is still technically an Atlanta resident.

Soon after taking his position in Brunswick, Bill began experiencing persistent discomfort in his back and leg. He initially consulted an Atlanta physician who misdiagnosed his condition. When the pain grew worse, Bill sought help from a few local physicians who determined that he needed hip replacement surgery. He then had to decide whether he wanted to return to his “big city” providers, or seek treatment in Brunswick.

“I decided to have the procedure at the Southeast Georgia Health System Joint Replacement Center in Brunswick and it was the best decision I could have made,” he said. “Every person I encountered at the hospital—from the admissions staff, to the lab technicians, to the pre-op and post-op nurses—was professional, courteous and knowledgeable. And my physician, J. Kevin Brooks, M.D., was superb. In all of my interactions, I didn’t have one single problem.”

Today, Bill has returned to his active lifestyle and still divides his time between Brunswick and Atlanta. His experience at the Joint Replacement Center has given him a new appreciation for health care in Brunswick. “I could have gone any place in Atlanta and never would have received care this good. It’s incredible to find a place like this here.”
